Dear Parent/Carer

Further to my recent letter regarding the proposed trip to the Theatre Royal in Nottingham to see J.B Priestley’s play An Inspector Calls, the English Department is happy to announce that there has been enough interest to make the trip viable. The trip will take place on Tuesday 10 November. We will leave Carre’s at approximately 6pm and return around 10pm. Please note that the return time is subject to change as the running time of the play has not yet been released. Further details will be sent out at the beginning of the new academic year.

We have 26 tickets available for the performance (this is more than the number of students who initially stated their interest). These will be reserved on a strictly first come, first served basis with priority given to students who returned their ‘statement of interest’ slip in the first instance. The cost of the trip will be £26 which covers the cost of the tickets and return transport to Nottingham.

If you would like your son to see the performance, please complete and return the slip at the bottom of this letter and return to me at school before the end of term. Payment will be via ParentPay and should be made by Friday 11 September.

Should you require any further clarification, please contact me at school.

Yours faithfully

Mrs Jacqueline Millband
Teacher of English
